

Contents of Hume's Treatise of Human Nature, Book II: The Passions

Part i: Pride and humility

1: Division of the subject.....	142
2: Pride and humility - their objects and causes.....	143
3: Where these objects and causes come from	145
4: The relations of impressions and ideas.....	147
5: The influence of these relations on pride and humility.....	148
6: Qualifications to this system.....	151
7: Vice and virtue.....	153
8. Beauty and ugliness.....	155
9. External advantages and disadvantages.....	158
10. Property and riches	161
11. The love of fame	164
12. The pride and humility of animals (omitted).....	168

Part ii: Love and hatred

1. The objects and causes of love and hatred	169
2. Experiments to confirm this system	170
3. Difficulties solved.....	175
4. Love for people with whom one has some connection	177
5. Our respect for the rich and powerful.....	179
6. Benevolence and anger.....	183
7. Compassion	185
8. Malice and envy	187
9. The mixture of benevolence and anger with compassion and malice.....	192
10. Respect and contempt	194
11. The amorous passion, or love between the sexes	195
12. The love and hatred of animals	197

Part iii: The will and direct passions

1. Liberty and necessity.....	199
2. Liberty and necessity (continued)	204
3. The influencing motive of the will.....	206
4. The causes of the violent passions	209
5. The effects of custom.....	211
6. The imagination's influence on the passions.....	212
7. Closeness and distance in space and time.....	213
8. Closeness and distance in space and time (continued)	215
9. The direct passions.....	217
10. Curiosity, or the love of truth	222